

Can you
find . . .

a bat?

a bicyclist?

a sculpture?

a taxi?

a man
walking his dog?

It is late. The play is over. People are on their way home. Only people walking their dogs and a few dancing men are still on the streets. The office worker falls asleep at his desk. The sculptors in the apartment above celebrate. Their whale is finished! One of the museum workers finally sees the moving caveman. Some people leaving the theater catch the burglar. Another busy day in the city has ended!

